

PREDOCTORAL RESEARCH PRIZE

The Revista Dígitos journal, published by the University of Valencia in Spain, will award a predoctoral research prize for best article published in its fifth issue.

Requirements for applicants

Be a master's or PhD student.

Academic requirements

The article must follow the journal's publication guidelines and address a topic dealing with communication and online culture.

Deadline for submitting articles

Articles considered for the prize and publication will be submitted through the journal's online platform no later than 23:59 (GMT+2) on September 15, 2018. They will have to indicate their interest to be considered in the contest in the note to the editor.

Prize

The author of the winning article (which will be published in issue 5 of Dígitos) will present his or her research publicly at a conference that will take place at the University of Valencia between November and December 2018. The research prize is 450€, for the researcher's transport and lodging, in addition to 150€ as consideration for his or her participation in the conference.

Selection committee

The selection committee will consist of the journal's editor in chief and the deputy editor, in addition to three other members of the editorial department of Revista Dígitos. The results will be announced on September 20 on the journal's website and through its social media accounts.